

Looking at Black History through Children's Literature

January 22, 2005

Sponsored by Children's Plus, Inc.

DuSable Museum, Chicago

Children's Plus and the CTLA are proud to present a discussion of black history through children's literature. Leading our discussion will be a special guest from the DuSable Museum, Chicago. Don't miss the opportunity to learn more about this special museum and what it has to offer you and your students.

The DuSable Museum of African-American History is the oldest museum of its type in the country and is the only major independent institution in Chicago established to preserve and interpret the historical experiences and achievements of African-Americans.
